FOREWORD . . .

"In placing before the public the first publication of 'The Nautilus' the Staff does not know whether an apology is necessary or not. Surely the Staff has done everything in its power to make a success out of Volume I of this large library which we earnestly hope will continue from year to year."

Thus did our predecessors launch their brain child. Thus was the poor helpless little book thrust out into the cruel world to fend for itself. Twenty-five years ago someone sat down to compose, just as we are trying to do, a fitting comment on the Nautilus. Then the book was just born, its very life depending upon its reception by the public. Now the same book is celebrating its twenty-fifth birthday. Trembling and unsure and hopeful, the Staff of 1913 could hardly have realized what an institution they were creating. Accepted and beloved by the student body for twenty-five years, the Nautilus looks forward to a long full life and a happy future. You, part of the public that has nourished and cherished the ambitious young volume until it grew to its present glorious status, are responsible for this.

We know that the Staff of 1913 joins us, the Staff of 1938, in gratitude to you. And in the whispering echo of our "Thank you" can be heard a ghostly wistful sigh, a delighted sigh, the kind that greets long dreamed-of success. Down through the rolling years comes a grateful, heartfelt—"Thank you!"

DEDICATION . . .

To Miss Slayback we dedicate this book—we owe her far more, but this is meant to be a symbol of our gratitude.

Her constant willingness to work and to give all for the benefit of others, together with her capable nature and congenial personality, make her one of the most integral parts of our school life.

Miss Anderson is fond of roller-skating along with the exercise of playing golf. . . . Mr. Culbertson believes in a good swing session. He was seen playing the piano in a swing band. . . . Miss Kennedy likes to travel during vacation. While school is in session she keeps up with the political world. . . . Miss Fleming's favorite enjoyment is Shakespeare's plays. She is a fan of good plays on the stage.

Miss Fenton, who is busy most of her time, likes to read real good books of some value. . . . Miss Wood would rather listen to an opera. She is opposed to the present day swing music. . . . Miss Ryan indicates good reading by her book reports. She is also very much interested in traveling. . . . Mrs. Clark is quite a basketball fan. She was seen at many of the games during the season.

FACULTY . . .

FACULTY . . .

Miss Norman, along with her books of good English, does her knitting in a unique way. . . . Mr. Rogers will be seen on his farm during the vacation months. Naming his animals is a problem to him. . . . Mr. Carroll travels the year round. He makes short trips over the week-end to his family home. . . . Miss Cook (in an old Spanish way) likes to prepare family meals. She also reads fiction books.

Miss Kimmel pays much attention to her flower garden. She has accomplished the technique in growing flowers. . . . Miss Hanna spends her time training her students for a Latin contest. Victory has been the result. . . . Mr. Hinshaw, who has become famous for his Civics courses, moves from his study of Civics to farming. . . . Miss Leiter quotes "housekeeping is essential to every woman in the home." Playing the piano is an unknown pastime to everyone except neighbors.

Miss Fletemeyer is very much interested in athletics. During her recent travels she went to see a Rose Bowl football game. . . . Miss Ward, who recently arrived from a trip in Europe, tells us of her ambition to travel in all foreign countries . . . Mr. Marshall takes his flower garden seriously. An old custom of his is to kid the Seniors in his classes. . . . Mr. Peebles in keeping with his department of work, believes in the scientific structure of a plant or animal.

Mr. Peck brings mathematics in as the solution of a great many problems. He is known as an inventor to most of the students in his classes. . . . Mr. Hammons' travels indicate his interest in raising many kinds of fruit. Recently he exhibited a large citrus fruit from Florida. . . . Mr. Hitchings enjoys traveling in addition to working with wood. He takes an active part in student activities. . . . Mr. Troutman uncovers his ability of being a manufacturer of musical instruments. This consists of his work in fine wood-work.

FACULTY . . .

FACULTY . . .

Mr. Wills, who is a talented drummer, wishes to arrive to the highest peak in swing music. . . . Mr. Morgan may be known as a great huntsman in the Northern woods. He is capable of doing work in handicraft. . . . Mr. Bradley, who takes care of the finances in the school, enjoys solving puzzles. He enjoys good movies as do most of us. . . . Miss Wagner types her way to fame in hopes to be a movie star. She furnishes us with humor at the proper time.

Miss Margaret White, who sews much of the time, believes there is a future to the sewing circles of America. . . . Miss Boyer appreciates our year book efforts due to her past experience. . . . Mr. Maurer is a great sportsman, especially in hunting and fishing. . . . Mr. Minier believes in newer angles in the teaching field, and the publication of new books.

Mr. Hadley, who has the temper of a journalist, likes to go on quiet fishing trips. . . . Miss Kienly is very much interested in artistic drawings. This year she has the new experience of working on the year book. . . . Miss McCoy is interested in flowers, sewing, and good wholesome entertainment. . . . Miss Rateliffe can be found framing pictures during most of her spare time.

Mr. Harry Taylor is experienced in drawing projects. He took up his work during the basketball season. . . . Mr. Peterson, who is a great biologist, prefers gardening which is essential in his type of work. . . . Miss Rothrock while motoring in her automobile may solve the problems of the traffic situation by geometry. . . . Mr. Lane, at the end of each school semester, is off with a flying start to the state of Michigan.

FACULTY . . .

FACULTY . . .

Mr. Robert Taylor, a member of the two F's, takes the air at an unexpected time. . . . Mr. Kenzler, known as Charles Atlas, believes in the development of the human body. . . . Mr. Leverenz, a golf star in local tournaments, enjoys camping (on the golf course). . . . Miss Sexton figures the technique of bowling by the angles of the bowling alley. This solution makes one a better bowler.

Mr. Masters is fishing for good basketball players during the school term. This explains his unusual technique in fishing. . . . Mr. Martin in past years has become famous as a great athletic star. He takes an active part in various sports the year round. . . . Miss Aldridge takes up knitting in relation to the development of young women of tomorrow. . . . Mr. Webb is a great sportsman in the fields of athletics. He is very successful in the line of hunting also.

CLASS OF 1938 . . . . . .

HISTORY . . .

Just as a football team entering a great field with the thought of reaching the goal in their eager minds, we, the class of 1938, began the first quarter of our game. We were looked upon as "greenies" not knowing which way to run. Of course, we, as freshmen, could not enter into the more important affairs of the school and as usual took the customary "bumps" and "knocks", knowing that all were fair; and some even dared to venture into the territory of the unknown players. At the end of the quarter many were taken out, but the rest were keeping up the moral, physical, and intellectual standard of Jefferson High.

The second quarter started with new vim and vigor — each player trying to possess more than the other. New players took the place of those having been hurt and the team as a whole started for the goal with new and different plays.

Many took their places in Latin and Geometry contests, winning honors, and entered the field of athletics possessing great ambitions.

At last we have passed the half way mark and are starting on the third quarter. In the first few minutes of play the Red and Black Revue was produced in which hundreds of students took part. The sweater committee also showed their skill by choosing dark green sweaters with silver numerals. As juniors we entertained the Seniors with a picnic at Ideal Beach. Looking ahead in the last minute of play, we saw the goal far at the other end of the field.

Wanting to make this goal in the last quarter, we started down the field with a few substitutes and different plays. We took the first play with unanimous success by electing a girl as our Captain — Marian Randolph. Her assistants were Alys Jones, Vice President; Marjorie Kuntz, Secretary-Treasurer; and Woodrow Randolph, Dance Chairman.

The second spectacular play gained many yards. It was the permission to wear caps and gowns for graduation. The last play, yet to come, is the one which most Seniors look forward to — the Senior Dance. After this we shall leave the field, trembling and again not knowing what to do or how to face this great world.

Katheryn Alburn.

CLASS WILL . . .

Whereas, we, the members of the Senior Class of Jefferson High School, being of sound mind and memory (praise be) and considering the uncertainty of the frail and transitory life (school), and desiring to transmit to those who follow after us, our scholarship, wisdom, excellence, superiority (ahem), grace, charm, good looks (?), and individual talents (everything but money—), hereby give, devise, and bequeath to "them that ain't out yet" the following:

Dewight Mickler wills his all to Jeff school spirit.

Mary Carson: I will my ability to double truck to Vinton Taylor.

Marianne Furr wills her many, many varied talents to someone who can live up to them.

Bill Decker: I will my ability to keep one jump ahead of Esquire to Jack Young.

Sybilla Bostwick: I keep my red hair. (Sorry.)

Wayne McCloud wills Bettie Maxwell to some other cornet player. (If she can put up with another one.)

Norbert Memmer: I will my love-making ability to Harry Lyman.

Alfred Torrenga, Harold Halpin, Michael Gurnich, and Joe DeLaney leave many free days to next year's class.

Thomas Greer and Leonard Elsea will their Stradivarius squeaks to the Jeff Orchestra.

Luella Ashby wills her ability to "get along" with yell leaders to those who will fall for Keith Lahr.

Jim Deets: I will some assorted mid irons and mashies to Mr. Carroll.

Raymond Coy, Clinton Hilt, Joe Halsema, and Robert Morehouse will light switches, curtain ropes, and stage preps to all incoming stage-hands.

Margaret Baum: I will my "I don't know" to future Civics classes.

Ruth Massey wills that sweet, patient expression to Jackie Decker, who needs it.

Barbara Allen wills her almost inaudible voice to Lodell Henry.

Alys Jones wills her giggle, her gum, and her fiery temper. Her gum goes to Mrs. Clark, her giggle to anyone who'll have it, and her fiery temper to Virginia Burnette.

Sam Gershuny wills various and sundry parts of his six-six to some of the four-fours around these halls.

Betty Hooton wills her miraculous (?) hair-dos to Jane Goddard.

Charles Borton wills his hot (?) trumpet to Harold Dicks.

Charles Boveri: I'll let someone else be "boycotted" next year.

Kay Rettig, Virginia Hughes, and Marjorie Kuntz: We will our love of life and Purdue boys to . . . does anyone want them?

Owen Ball: I will my Willys . . . nuff said!

Maxine Mann and Lois Snyder will their sudden silly outbursts to Loveda Cassman and Phyllis Brassie.

George Page wills his exclusive right to Patty and Barb to himself.

Doris Grannon wills her bit of romance to some other basketball fan.

Dan Tschopp: I will my mathematical ability to all geometry, physics, chemistry, algebra, arithmetic, and trig classes.

Mildred Burdon wills a nice full-toned high C to the Girls' Glee Club.

Frank Smith and Elwyn Palmer will their artistic ability to future struggling artists. (Have you seen their Hanya Holm sketches?)

Gayle Minnick, Iris Kellar, and Marian Miller will their winsomeness to Colleen Minnick, Marjorie Thornton, and Jane Williams.

Betty Darnell wills her cheerfulness under a mountain of trouble to the next advanced Latin class.

Kenny Robertson wills (ah, yes) whatever it is he's got to Do-Ju.

Luella Lock: "I will my "line" to all girls who want to get ahead.

Harold Schwieger wills his laugh (?) to all future Chemistry classes.

Janet Zahn wills her place at the end of the senior list to all future Z's.

Verne Hilt: I will my ultra-sophisticated manner to Jordan McCarty.

Bruce Lawler wills his sex appeal to Bob Fisher.

Juanita Pitman, Pansy McCoy, Margaret Riley, Norma Skinner, Mary Gerber, Elsie Dexter, and Frances Linder will their silence to some of those who can't keep quiet.

Katheryn Alburn wills her wealth of friends to some lonely heart.

George Simpson, Bill Harrington, Max Rycraft, and Earl Gilbert will their ready minds and smiling faces to the world which needs more like them.

Rosemary Mackey wills her tactics in tumbling to her sister, "Liz."

John Schnaible wills his ability to understand the electron theory of valence to himself. No one else can quite understand it.

Helen Frosch: I will my piano playing ability to Dama Ireland.

Woody Randolph and Melvin Doyle: We will our loyalty to Tuxis Supreme to Tuxis Supreme.

Elda Anderson, Evelyn Griffin, Ruth Mack, and Belva Smith will their chattering to Bettie Hilt, Charlotte Fridley, Helena Linn, and Betty Mowry.

Bill Potter: I will my good old common sense to some featherbrain.

Betty Christian and Frances Cohee will their charming diminutiveness to Alice Altherr and Sarah Andrew.

Mae Kaplan wills that independence of mind to Babette Knowles.

Betty Trexler wills her dramatic endeavors to Doris Grannon, now languishing somewhere else.
Maxine Widener, Mary Stong, Betty Davis, Jeanne Williamson, Almabeth Mater, and Florence Sunkes will their pleasing personalities to a cause for cheering up the world.
Tom Vaughan, George Miller, Herbert Sharp, Frank McGaughey, Frank Hines, and Phillip Croll: We jointly will our "All-Quiet" mood to Bob Gates.
Mary Warrenburg wills her nickname, Dolly and Baby, to Mildred Kemmer.
Jack and Janet Gamso will their flashy smiles to the magazine ads.
Betty Sietsma wills her late hours to Madelyn Chick.
Richard Ward, Tom Moffett, Wayne Switzer, and Ed Rover will their own study system (it's mostly rest periods) to Cy Jarka, Bob Cheesman, Leonard Frosch, and Fred Hamner.
William Burkle and Earnest Grey will their "Jokes" (?) to the two Johns, McMahan and McDowell.
John Rice, Paul Butz, John Smith, James Allen, Bob Daniels, Dennis Head, and Al Wolt will their ability to look completely disinterested in class collectively to James Quaintance.
Francis Shelby, Richard Vandermay, Kenny Beck, and Jim Butler will their ability to be held back by nothing to some one who might get stuck along the way.
Mary Edwards wills her gleeful giggle to Phyllis Herod.
William Bridge: I don't say nuthin!
Percy Kerr wills his squeaky seat in Health Ed. to its next occupant.
Leonard Bridge wills his athletic and mathematical ability to future mathematical athletes.
Eugene Graves: I leave my track abilty to my brother, Carl.
Herschel Gordon and Harry Jackson will those sweaters (?) to the Senior Hi-Y club.
Dotty Goans wills her oratorical and forensic ability to the W.C.T.U.
Robert Page: I leave my "charm for girls" to some other Lothario.
Bob Burke leaves Elizabeth to find another boy friend in Jeff.
Betty Shoup, Verna Williams, Ellen Tyner, Betty Robertson, Evangeline Fraser, and Marie Freeland will their naturally nice personalities to some of the fading would-be wall flowers here abouts.
Charles Shannon wills his habit of being seen and not heard to Joe McClurg.
Thelma Grimes wills her friendly heart to Nina Martin.
Joe Laughlin wills a baritone solo to the glee club and an oration to the public speaking department.
Paul Coffey: I will my head to the Woodman's Weekly.
Alma Richards and Viola Richardson will their neighboring convo seats . . . always quiet . . . to two always loud.
Don Pyke: I will my mustachio (?) to some other gigolo.
Harry Shoemaker, Harriet Hoyt, and Flora Clingler leave their brain power to the class of '39.
Tom Dunkin: I'll pass on that reverse turn I got last year.
Gib Freeman, Dallas Rutherford, and George McLain leave their ability to get by to Don McClelland, Frank Westfal, and Frank Reidel.
Logan Schmadel, Robert Weber, and Kenny Watson will their mirth-provoking verdancy. (Oh, boy!)
Marian Randolph wills her scintillating supremacy (that's better yet).
Juanita Kersey and Ardis Davis will their blatant sophistication (what, another?).
Phyllis Yelton and Phyllis Hetrick will their supercilious demeanors. (That is the last.)
James Rush and Earl Dose will their he-man qualities to the Bronchos.
Lawrence O'Connor leaves a good argument to anyone who wants it.
Allen Rector leaves good hunting and fishing to Bill Miller.
James Burwell and Ed Clark leave their red hair and freckles to Jeff, which will miss them so much.
Paul and Pauline Hobaugh will their unassuming greatness to enrich this good old earth of ours.
Carol Heath wills her clever impersonations to a press agent who might be able to give her a contract.
Bill Stephans wills his boyish bashfulness (?) to Charles Retterath.
Maurice Cornelius wills his bow tie to Esquire.
Charles Combs wills his good "Stooge" qualities to the next assistant Booster sports scribbler.
Luella Cockrell, Ruth Davis, Marguerite Deeming, and Dorothy Dewhurst will a smile for each and a kindly word for all Jeff students.
Irma Bedford: I will to Lillian Evans my personality, which not even critics criticize.
Esther Burke, Harriet Bryant, Betty Meacham, Edith Nelson, and Pauline Haynes will their many, many virtues to the girls of the class of '39.
Jane Johnson wills her over-over-flowing sunny disposition to some of the sour faces around here.
Bob Ewing wills his ability to get there just on time to some more last minute hall sprinters.
Virginia Cassman wills her rare mixture of moods, smiling, serious, pixilated, to Dorothy Fisher.
William Randolph: I will my high flying to some other Lindbergh.
Robert Kull: I will my poetic ability to myself. I might need it.
Victor Kercher: I will a sonnet, To Marian, to any love-sick junior boy.
Corrine Reifers wills her honey-lovely personality to someone who could make use of it . . . O-la-la.
Mariam Blackburn and Mary Sanders will their femininity to some of these modern tomboys.
Don Minton: I leave my haircut to some other Indian.
Julia Scobee wills that gleam of merry mischief to Lolabelle Huffman.
Robert Lane, Horace Ford, Stanley Newhard, Richard Spencer, and Paul Johnson will their intention of never dying of overwork to be equally divided between Robert Dooley and Ralph Ashford.

Vera Whitehead wills her ability to be merry the whole day through to Harriet Deckard.

Betty Heidkamp and Elizabeth Phillips will their discretion. (What will they do without it?)

Dallas Dawson wills a big bass drum beat to the Jeff Band.

June Johnson wills her cheery disposition, spirit and action, to Jearldeen Hargis.

Mary Ellen Schurman wills her sincerity to Delores Gingrich.

Norma Runkle, Mary Yeager, Bettie Wells, Ruth Lowe, Louise Fleeger, Eleanor Brenner, Thelma Coy, Treva DeLong, and Betty Ross leave their quiet ways and eloquent silence to a noisy convocation.

Bruce Johnson: I leave Alice to Jeff, my clarinet to the band, and little "dirt" to the Booster.

Mary Frances Hunter wills her serious mind and cautious nature to Joan Collins.

Virginia Knowles and Gaynelle Lord leave a little duet to the octet.

Justus Lane, Ralph Price, Paul Schafer, Eugene Hurst, Charles Carlisle, and Clifford Schaff will to the world the best that is in them.

Gerald Clark wills a little "book-larnin'" (Oh, Yeah?) to West Side.

Milford Deaver leaves an extra horn blow to the band.

Next to lastly, we will devise all our stormy class sessions, clever schemings, wranglings among ourselves, shattered test tubes, tardy slips, blue slip for 3:10, burnt messes, crooked seams, smashed digits, athletic defeats, and oratorical fizzles—whatsoever, unto the Heathens of the Tonga Islands and their lawful heirs forever.

Lastly, we leave to every boy and girl that will in the future enter Jeff, long, long days to be happy in as we have been happy, and no, no days to scribble tests in.

Our unformed signatures not being recognized in law (we can't even make them out), we hold back our natural impulse to subscribe our names hereunto.

Attorneys: Chester Riegle and Eldon Ellis.

Executed in the Month of May in the year of our Lord, 1938.

CLASS PROPHECY . . .

Mary Jane Douglass will acquire $50 and "Lily Rose."

Leonard Bridge will fail to make a 100% on a math test.

If Charles Barton keeps his present practice of laying awake nights to think up jokes to crack in Mr. Lane's class, he too will lose his hair.

Bruce Lawler and Betty June Trexler will make their fortune (separately) as dance instructors.

Dan Pyke and his orchestra will fulfill an engagement at the Palmer House.

Wayne McCloud will marry someone whose eardrums can stand the infernal racket of his cornet.

Verne Hilt will advertise permanent waves for men.

Sam Gershuny will always be on time—to collect his pay check.

Daniel Tschopp and John Schnaible will become absent-minded professors.

Betty Davis will become one of the authorities acknowledged in Gregg's shorthand book.

Jim Deets will marry a pretty manicurist so he can keep his fingernails in tip-top shape.

Harry Shoemaker will rival Leslie Howard as "Romeo."

Doris Grannon will give Leonardo Da Vinci's great masterpiece some competition.

Mae Kaplan will become a laboratory technician.

Carol Heath will find her career in the movies.

Mary Stong will study the intricacies of the cornet so that she will make a good showing in the eyes of that certain someone.

Ruth Davis will be chief chef at some "ritzy" hotel.

Betty Christian will become World's Champion Typist.

Maurice Cornelius will finance his private insane asylum.

Logan Schmadel will sing his way to success.

Jim Butler will sleep for a hundred years.

Charles Boveri's laugh will be used in one of Walt Disney's new moving picture comedies.

Corrine Reifers and Wm. Decker will continue their reputation as the best dressed at college.

Frances Cohee will settle down with Bill—and raise extremely tall children.

Frank Hines will run a poultry farm.

Bruce Johnson may become a second Benny Goodman.

Dallas Dawson will play a kettle drum in a symphony orchestra.

George Page and Vera Whitehead will join the Hagenback-Wallace circus as performers on a flying trapeze.

Betty Anne Hooton will star in the great hit "Yours Forever" by George Simpson. Her manager will be Alys Jones.

Jane Johnson will head the "Giggles Convention."

Max Rycraft will be the tennis champion of 1943. His championship will be challenged by Phyllis Yelton.
Julia Jean Scobee will be the typical home wife for B. D.
Elma Richards will start going with the boys in the year 2000.
Lawrence O'Conner will become a chemistry laboratory assistant.
Juanita Pitman will become one of the first woman race drivers.
Francis Shelby will become an authority on Chaucer.
Harriet Hoyt will become the first woman Secretary of the Treasury and will prove to the world that a woman is much less of a spendthrift than a man.
Treva DeLong will spend her life cutting off laboratory aprons to fit short people.
Kay Rettig will never attend an institution which is not coeducational.
Marge Kuntz will discover a new and easier way to find logarithms for the special benefit of Harry Jackson.
Herschel Gordon will become a math teacher.
"Stooge" Combs will become a demon reporter.
Robert Lane will spend the rest of his life keeping the shine on their new car.
Dorothy Goans will model Adrian's creations.
Mary Gerber will make a fortune on her caricatures of Virginia Cassman.
Paul and Pauline Hobaugh will enter many contests for twins.
Jim Rush will be the handsome football hero of many coeds.
Kenneth Beck will be pointed out as a model of "What the up-to-date young man should wear."
Eugene Hurst will buy a new hat.
Chester Riegle will let his hair grow and become a talented violinist.
Justus Lane will become president of the "Pencil Snatchers' Club." The secretary will be George McLain.
At the age of twenty-two Betty Darnell will have given more Latin orations than any other living person.
Gilbert Freeman will sell pop at the Major League baseball games.
As a future author, Mary Edwards will be a success.
Flora Clingler is destined to become a Health Ed. teacher.
Kathryn Alburn will be a noted authority on Latin declension and conjugations.
Jeanne Williamson will acquire a few more inches in height to keep up with Sam Gershuny.
Maxine Mann will get her long awaited fur coat.
"Red" Clark will sell toupees. His chief customer will be Charles Borton.
Helen Frosch will take up classical music altogether in the future.
Maxine Widener will reside near a military school.
Lois Snyder will become a famous comedienne.
Earl Gilbert will spend the rest of his life on a farm.
Betty Jo Sietsma and her beauty salon will be a boon to any lady who can't do a thing with her hair.
In view of her vocal abilities, Sybilla Bostwick will probably capitalize on her voice.
Betty Shoup will become a world famous artist.
Marian Randolph will probably enter politics as a champion of the weaker sex.
June Johnson will achieve her life-long ambition to marry Denny Johnson ('38).
Paul (Cream Puff) Coffey will work his wife for money the same as he works his mother.
Gayle Minnick will settle down with her Purdue student.
Gerald Clark will become a second Patrick Henry.
Ruth Massey will keep an apartment at Kokomo and one in Lafayette. She will divide her time equally between the two places.
George Miller will post as long as possible so he can help initiate Hi-Y members.
Norma Runkle will devote her life to getting a law passed requiring high school students to have 2 years of Latin.
Bob Ewing will give dramatic readings on the New York stage.
Lynn Tylens will become a captain in the National Guard.
Janet and Jack Gamso will be a second Rogers-Astaire combination.
Florence Sunkes will get a ten page letter from that certain someone.
Dewight Meckler and Luella Ashby will settle down to a quiet country life.
Ruth Lowe will make a small fortune collecting a variety of frogs.
Juanita Kersey will move to Bloomington so that she can see E. Purtz more often.
Eldon Ellis will write a 10,000 word essay on "Pros and Cons of Missing Classes" in punishment for having been on the Honor Roll for four years.
Kenny Robertson will settle down and raise a "Cantor" family (all girls).
Mary Frances Hunter will be employed as a reviewer of books.
James Allen will become an essayist.
Don Minton will get bit sometime the way he carries those false teeth around.
Vic Kercher will grow a moustache and six inches.
Louis will open a peanut factory to feed Barbara Allen.
Jim Burwell will buy a gum factory.
Paul Butz will increase the size of his chemistry lab at home.

LEE O. GILLESPIE

A TRIBUTE

Life! It is the queerest thing,
  Today we want to laugh and sing,
Tomorrow, however, a friend is gone
  And also all our mirth and song.
Instead we find our face a tear,
  With the departure of one so dear;
The world moves on, no matter how we feel
  All we can do is pray, so let us kneel,
And ask our Creator to see us through
  Life's path of trials and heart-breaks, too.
Only to come to that glorious end
  And know we are meeting this so missed friend.

Margaret Baum.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY . . .

Three years ago, full of trepidation, a new harvest of grade A greenies started through the high school thresher.

First of all the chaff of extreme childishness was threshed out. After a stiffer and longer process the shell of egotism and conceit was at least partially removed. The polishing process will never be quite completed.

Of course the threshers and grain had to have rests and diversions, so clubs, and orchestras, and bands were formed. Plays, shows, and convocations also helped to entertain during the pauses of labor. For those grains which reacted well to the applied processes, there was an honor roll.

Year by year grain passes through this four-year machine. In the end the grain is separated from all foreign matter, and partially polished is sent into the world.

Every individual kernel hopes that after his crop finishes the fourth year, it will be recognized as one of the best.

Betty Jane Mowry, '39.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY . . .

With the year nineteen hundred thirty seven the "Traditional Timid Tots" of thirty six become the "Sophisticated Sophomore Swingsters". Our goal — a high school diploma — although not so far in the future becomes increasingly difficult to attain.

We no longer race through the halls, staggering beneath an armload of books, but find time in which to exchange the latest bit of gossip, and yet make it to our class before the bell.

Throughout the year numerous activities afforded us considerable pleasure. Among these were the second Red and Black Revue; a novel dance given by the girls (appropriately named the Bronchoettes Gallop); the annual Booster dance; several successful skating parties sponsored by the Hi-Ys; and last but not least the usual excitement of the athletic seasons.

Despite so many outside interests, the school was well represented by the sophomore class in both the Latin and Geometry contests as well as other scholastic accomplishments.

As a Junior class we hope to further our attempts to carry on the fine traditions rendered us by the foregoing students, and in so doing leave our impression.

Although our Sophomore Class days be gone — never will they be forgotten.

Barbara Royster, '40.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY . . .

As the train "Freshie" pulled out of the station, "Childhood," it embarked on a long journey. The passengers numbered approximately four hundred and thirty-seven enthusiastic boys and girls. This train encountered many detours, but these were soon righted by the aid of the teachers and upper-classmen. It must be remembered however that this was the first trip that these freshmen had ever experienced.

During our first few weeks, a London fog could have penetrated our vague knowledge of just what was going on with more optimism and better vision. This gradually cleared and we soon became more accustomed to the difference between the grades and Jeff.

In spite of the frowns and criticism, the new class has proved itself worthy of belonging to Jeff. The freshmen have taken some honors in athletics and dramatics and added pep and snap to the shows. Others have been represented on the honor roll and in the algebra and Latin Contests.

Many things were learned by the crew and the passengers on this journey. The principles of Latin, algebra and English, the customs and laws of the ancient Europeans, the growth and difference between plants and flowers — all these essentials were accepted and used as fuel in preparation for "Freshies" next trip to be made in the coming fall.

Every year it hopes to gain more speed and be in better condition than before, even though the journey travels through a land which has many hills, mountains, lakes and chasms.

After the fourth and last trip is completed the train, under the name of "Senior Special" will arrive at the Terminal Station, Commencement of 1941.

CLASS OF 1941 . . .

ACTIVITIES
1938

SOME FUN, EH WHAT? . . .

DEBATE . . .

Seated B. J. Mowry, H. Overesch, J. McCarty, J. Laughlin, G. E. Carroll.
Standing E. Ellis, G. Freeman, J. Purdue, W. Thompson.

Jefferson's debate teams were very successful this year. They bowed in defeat only in the sectional tourney to Crawfordsville. Although Jefferson and Crawfordsville both had won three debates and lost one, Crawfordsville won the tourney by virtue of a win over Jeff's affirmative team.

A class in debating technique was directed by Mr. George Carroll, debate coach, during the fall semester. From this class the debating teams were selected.

Starting the regular season, the squad attended the Purdue Debate Conference where various authorities spoke on the question for the year, "Resolved that Indiana should adopt a unicameral system of legislature."

During the season the debaters traveled to Bloomington for an invitational tourney, to Logansport, West Side, and Anderson. Brook and West Side were guests of Jefferson. Exhibition debates were given to the P.T.A. and the Exchange Club.

The Debate squad consisted of: Affirmative, Joe Laughlin, Eldon Ellis, and Betty Jane Mowry; Negative, John Purdue, Jordan McCarty, and Warren Thompson.

FORENSIC CLUB . . .

The purpose of the Forensic Club is to promote speaking. The membership this year has been limited to those who are in some form of speech activity. The members of the Debate Squad, those in Oratory, public speaking classes, or those who desired to take active part in the meetings comprised the membership.

The meetings this year, which were held every month, were of unusual interest to the members. Along with the meetings, some parties were held. One of the main events of the year was a weiner-roast, held early in the fall. The February meeting was also a very distinctive one. Miss Ward, who traveled in Europe last summer, gave a very vivid description of the ways and manner of speaking as used in the different European countries. This was very educational as well as interesting.

Much of the credit for the success of the Forensic Club is due to Mr. V. C. Rogers, our capable faculty adviser. He has given much of his time and efforts in order to promote the purposes of this organization. The officers were: President, Eldon Ellis; Vice-President, John Purdue; Secretary-Treasurer, Sam Gershuny, Vera Whitehead; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jordan McCarty.

Seated—V. C. Rogers, J. McCarty, J. Purdue, E. Ellis, S. Gershuny, G. Sloan.
Standing—H. Shoembaker, H. Frosch, C. Riegle, K. Rettig, B. J. Sietsma, W. Levering, G. E. Carroll, R. Price.

ORATORY

Bottom Row J. McCarty, G. Sloan, D. Goans
Second Row J. Laughlin, W. Levering, V. C. Rogers.

Jefferson High School was well represented in some of the important oratorical contests held throughout the state. In the Central Indiana Oratorical Contest held November 18, 1937, at Delphi, Marjorie Kuntz and Joe Laughlin were the school representatives. Each school entered two students in both the girls and boys divisions in the Triangular meet between Delphi, Logansport, and Jeff, December 8, 1937. Marjorie Kuntz won first place in the girls' division, and Joe Laughlin and Dorothy Goans won third place in their respective divisions. At the original oratorical contest at Wabash College February 22, 1938, Elwyn Palmer wrote and delivered his own oration: "Gretna Green and Reno."

Jeff was also represented in the State Oratorical Contest at Franklin College held March 26, and in the Logansport Invitational Meet. Jordan McCarty won the county championship in the Discussion League, and Gerald Clark and Flora Clinger took part in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest at DePauw University.

The oratorical squad was coached by V. C. Rogers, and under his direction and through the cooperation of the students, the Jeff orators climaxed one of their most successful seasons.

STUDIO CLUB . . .

With a new sponsor, Miss Kienly, the studio club has soared to greater heights than ever this year. It has carried out its purpose which is to stimulate an interest in art appreciation, and to sponsor and attend exhibits and lectures on various phases of art. Members also attempt to participate in as many school activities as possible.

Among the outstanding projects of the club are the making of posters for the school, its various functions and organizations, and the presentation of an attractive exhibit for the students and public sometime during the school year.

A business meeting is held once each month at which time plans for the month are discussed. It's social activities consist of parties, usually held each month, and an outdoor picnic held in the spring so that members interested in landscapes are given an opportunity for supervised free hand sketching.

The officers were: President, Carol Heath; Vice-President, Vera Whitehead; Secretary-Treasurer, Barbara Allen.

Bottom Row—R. Mack, C. Heath, B. Allen, B. Robertson, V. Whitehead, A. Hart, M. L. Sanders
Second Row—A. McKinniss, B. Heath, J. Speckhardt, R. Lamb, K. Murphy, C. Cavanaugh, N. F. Thornton, S. Corso, K. Keys, M. Maitlen.
Third Row—G. Kienly, R. Ball, C. Hanks, E. Palmer, H. Buit, F. Smith, B. Hockema.

BOOSTER STAFF . . .

Under the direction of Sam Gershuny and Chester Reigle, the Booster Staff this year has cooperated to achieve a publication that has been a welcome variation from the more conventional papers of previous years.

Following the lead of some of the progressive urban newspapers, the Booster had adopted a modified streamlining, with flush left headlines. The Journal Courier was most generous in furnishing a new nameplate in Barnhard Gothic, one of the newer type faces.

In the upper right corner of the front page space is reserved for late bulletins. This innovation increased the current value to the students.

The goal toward which the staff has worked has been to present the maximum amount of news of school affairs, and to keep the entire content of the paper at a sufficiently high plane that parents, advertisers, and others outside the school could find little or nothing to criticize adversely.

Tentative financial reports indicate that the publication has been sufficiently successful to warrant the purchase of certain mechanical equipment which will further vivify next year's Booster.

NAUTILUS STAFF . . .

We, who were nearest to its birth and growth, give you the 1938 Nautilus—our contribution not only to the seniors but to the entire student body and faculty—one more link in the chain of priceless volumes that record unforgetable high school days.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the following for their splendid cooperation during the making of the Nautilus: Hinea's Studio; the Indianapolis Engraving Company; Mr. Morgan and the printing classes for printing campaign signs; Miss Kienly and the art classes for their many posters; Miss Gildersleeve, Miss Schrader and Miss Bogan; Booster Staff for their aid in advertisement; Harriet Hoyt and Juanita Kersey, typists for the yearbook; Richard Ball for his clever art designs; and last, but not least, we thank the teachers and students who contributed time, writeups, and articles used in this book.

After eight months of work toward our goal, we leave to you the 25th Anniversary Nautilus. We ask no praise, merely your sincere appreciation of our best efforts.

SENIOR HI-Y . . .

Bottom Row—G. Hitchings, H. Jones, G. Clark, A. Simpson, G. Ritenour, F. Hines, G. Miller.
Second Row—J. Lane, J. Burwell, W. Switzer, D. Rutherford, B. Coffman, B. Page, B. Dooley.

Fourth Row—G. Page, R. Ashford, J. Purdue, B. Berryman, F. Grey, T. Dunkin, J. McCown.
Fifth Row—H. Gordon, F. Shelby, V. Hilt, R. VanDermay, B. Westra, E. Palmer, D. Pyke.

The real beginning of the 1938 Club was last April when this year's officers were elected. The newly elected officers then were sent to Indianapolis to attend a conference for all newly elected Hi-Y officers from all over the state. At this convention a great many of the club's problems were discussed.

After the Seniors had graduated there were only eleven members left to start the new year. These eleven, though, had the true Hi-Y spirit, for they built the membership to forty by the end of the membership drive of the second semester.

Under the experienced sponsorship of Gerald Hitchings, the year's program has been very eventful. The two skating parties, weiner roast, Halloween party, and the Mixers, which the combined club sponsored, were a few of the club's activities which gave the members entertainment and indirectly accomplished the club's purpose.

The primary purpose of the club is character building, which has been amply taken care of by the opportunities offered. Experience in leadership is gained by any officer, committee member, or club member who is willing to work and grasp the opportunity presented. A true understanding was had with the fairer sex when six leading girls of the school were questioned by members as to their perplexing problems.

To furnish an incentive the club has inaugurated a point system in which the members are graded on their club activity for which they are well rewarded.

The officers were: President, Bruce Lawler; Vice-President, Don Minton; Secretary, Gerald Clark; Treasurer, Herschell Gordon; Sergeant-at-Arms, James Burwell.

TUXIS HI-Y . . .

"Tuxis Supreme! Tuxis Supreme! These cries have been echoing through the halls this year since the Tuxis Hi-Y adopted this as their official slogan. The club has been ably led under the leadership of a new sponsor.

Among the outstanding events sponsored by the Tuxis were the annual football banquet, which was put on by the combined efforts of the Tuxis and Senior Hi-Y's and the Sunshine Society, Hi-Y mixers, and several closed social functions. A large group from the local chapter attended the annual Hi-Y picnic held at Turkey Run State Park. As usual, delegates were sent to Older Boys' Conference at Peru, Indiana, and to the State Hi-Y officers' Convention at Indianapolis.

At Christmas, the Tuxis did their share of donating to funds and assisted in all school Christmas cheer activities. Closing their social season, the Tuxis held a formal dinner-dance as a farewell to seniors.

The purpose of the organization is to create, maintain and extend throughout the school community, high standards of Christian character. The platform is clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living.

The officers were: President, Wilbur Stephan; Vice-President, Woodrow Randolph; Secretary, Paul Coffey; Treasurer, Melvyn Doyle; Sergeant-at-Arms, Victor Kercher.

Bottom Row—W. Randolph, M. Doyle, P. Coffey, V. Kercher, T. Vaughan

Fifth Row—C. Naville, C. Vanderkolk, R. Herod, C. Jarka, W. Ardapple, C. Bradshaw, G. McDowell.

The year 1937-38 has marked a decided increase in the interest of the members of the Junior Hi-Y.

Under the guidance of Mr. George Carroll, recently appointed sponsor of the club, the Junior Hi-Y has engaged in various activities during the past school year. We assisted the other two Hi-Y organizations in sponsoring the Hi-Y mixers, which proved quite popular with the student body. The members were entertained on several occasions by social affairs, among them being a steak-fry and a scavenger hunt.

The club also combined with the Tuxis and Senior clubs in sponsoring the annual Jeff football banquet.

A basketball tournament was held at the Y.M.C.A. during the Christmas vacation in which the organization participated.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. About twenty new members have been taken into the Junior Hi-Y during the past school year.

The officers were: President, James Pechin; Vice-President, Clarence Naville; Secretary, Harry Lyman; Treasurer, Edwin Bordenet.

MASTER MACHINISTS CLUB . . .

One of Jefferson's organizations that contributes much to the school but which gains very little recognition is the Master Machinists.

Much stage equipment, such as spotlights, pulleys, counterweights, etc., were made in the machine shop since many of the club members are members of the stage crew and the two organizations work hand in hand.

During the year, shop foremen from some of Lafayette's leading industries were invited to speak to the club members. By this means, prospective machinists and employers can be brought into closer contact, which results in a closer "tie-up" between Jeff machinists and industries in the city.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB . . .

The Home Economics Club is affiliated with the State and National Home Economics Associations. Membership consists of the girls interested in Home Economics courses; the purpose is to create a wider interest in subjects relating to domestic arts.

The club meets once a month. The theme of the meeting this year is an "Around the World Tour" in which the girls carry out each program in keeping with different countries. At one of the meetings Miss Marguerite Ward related some of her experiences during her trip to Europe; at another meeting Mary Irene Sawyer, a student at Purdue University, who lives in Santa Marta, Colombia, South America, spoke on interesting facts concerning her country.

Among the social events of the year were: a white elephant Christmas party, held at the home of a member, and a backwards party with a potluck supper, held in the school cafeteria.

Marilyn Danley and Ruth Davis were sent as representatives to the State Home Economics Convention held in Indianapolis last October.

The officers were: President, Ruth Davis; Vice-President, Irene Schnaible; Secretary, Norma Pendroy; Treasurer; Henrietta Davis. The sponsors were Miss Ratcliffe and Miss McCoy.

SUNSHINE SOCIETY . . .

"With love in my heart, forgetting self, and with charity for all, I will make the object of my life helpfulness and kindness to others. I shall try to fit myself to give intelligent service in making my community a safer and more beautiful place in which to live. Thus will my own life become rich and complete." May the Sunshine girls carry with them through life the lofty ideals to which they have pledged themselves in this, the creed of the Sunshine Society.

Every girl automatically becomes a member of the Society when she enters high school and is urged to attend the meetings which are held the third Thursday of each month.

Throughout the year the Society contributes to various charitable organizations, aids the less fortunate students by buying lunches, shoes, clothing, and other necessities, sends flowers to the sick, and, in general, spreads sunshine whenever and wherever possible.

Money is raised for these purposes by selling candy at the candy counter during the noon hour, at football and basketball games, and by sponsoring school dances.

Throughout the state new chapters are constantly being organized. At present, there are one hundred and forty chapters in Indiana, and one in Illinois. Surely, the Jefferson chapter is rated as one of the finest.

Under the guidance and leadership of our dean of girls, Miss Irma Slayback, the Girls' Advisory Council has finished a very successful year during 1937 and 38. The main purposes of the club have been carried out in an unusually fine manner.

Two meetings are held each month; one social meeting and one business meeting. As in previous years, one of the main social events is a Mother's Day Breakfast at which time the girls pay tribute to their mothers by honoring them with a sumptuous feast, a program and favors. Another activity of the organization is it's welfare work at Christmas, at which time they join together with the Sunshine Society in order to carry on more extensive work in the way of spreading Christmas cheer.

In order to carry out the G.A.C. Purpose, which is cooperation and service, the members are assigned to scout duties in the school office, Sunshine Room, and library.

It is usually the desire of every girl in Jeff to become a member of this noteworthy group.

The officers were: President, Mary Frances Hunter; Vice-President, Gayle Minnick; Secretary, Alys Jones; Treasurer, Mary Carson.

GIRL RESERVES . . .

The purpose of the Girl Reserves is "To find and give the best." Each and every girl tries to fulfill the purpose to the best of her ability. Loyalty, dependability, impartiality, and reverence are some of the characteristics that the organization tries to develop.

To every one who belongs comes some good. As a result of the close association the girls have with one another, they learn newer, and better ideas, perspectives and ideals. The club aims to make the girls who belong feel welcome—especially those who have just entered and naturally are a little shy in taking an active part.

The club holds regular semi-monthly meetings, at the Y.W.C.A. Most of these are business meetings, but on several occasions, in observance of holidays, the club holds informal meetings such as pot-luck suppers, parties, teas, and out-of-town excursions. At these meetings, particularly at the informal ones, the girls are drawn into closer social contact and acquire a better understanding of each other.

The officers who served this year were: President, Vera Stanfield; Vice-President, Janet Zahn; Secretary, Betty Trexler; and Treasurer, Effie Snyder.

Seated—Earl Hays, Charlotte Fridley, Janet Glatz, Pauline Hobaugh, Janet Gamso, Alice Palmer.
Standing—Merle Hays, Charline Fridley, Jimmy Glatz, Paul Hobaugh, Jack Gamso, Alma Palmer.

Just alike in many a way
Each is happy and so gay.
Friends of everyone they meet
Find the one you'll try to greet
Every time you will be wrong.
Rather sad to miss so long
Some of the twins don't look alike
Only happened to be born the same night.
Now the twins are pals you see
Still just friends to you and me.
To these twins we give this page
With these hopes—they will engage
In a successful and happy life.
Not just drift along "all right," but
Speed ahead and win life's fight.

HISTORY CLUB . . .

Nine years ago the History Club was organized by Miss Wilma Fletemeyer, who has been the sponsor of the club during the entire nine years of its existence. Through her guiding influence the club has yearly increased its membership and has been an imminent success.

The principal purpose of this club is to stimulate a better interest in history. All who are interested in history and social science are invited to join.

The programs this year have proved to provide pleasant entertainment. Among the programs presented were Miss Schaff's review of the book, "Northwest Passage," Miss Ward's talk on her experiences in Europe last summer, and a trip to the Lafayette Historical Museum.

It is a custom to have an annual picnic in the spring. This picnic is usually held at some historical spot.

The club has had one of the most successful years in its history, and it wishes to strive for a greater increase in its membership.

The officers were: President, James Deets; Vice-President, Alys Jones; Secretary, George Crosier; Treasurer, Loveda Cassman.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION . .

Jeff offers all sorts of sports to its girls who are interested in athletics. Beginning with the opening of school in the fall, the tumbling teams start to function and continue until the end of the school year. Deck tennis and volleyball tournaments are held. In January, basketball practice starts; teams are chosen and a tournament is held. In the spring, the girls play softball and tennis.

In sports such as basketball and volleyball, varsity teams are chosen. Although this is merely honorary, it carries extra athletic points, which aid in obtaining a "J." For this award, a girl must have earned eight-hundred points; these are awarded by the athletic director for all athletic activities. These points are difficult to earn and few girls receive awards.

The facilities for girls' athletics have been greatly improved this year. The old gym was remodeled for use by the girls and better equipment has been obtained. The girls will also benefit by the use of the new athletic field for their outdoor sports.

The tumbling team has gained recognition for their performances at school functions, especially their part in the annual "Red and Black Revue."

COMMERCE CLUB . . .

The Jefferson Commerce Club is one of the voluntary extra curricular activities of students interested in commercial pursuits. Ethical, social, and general educational concepts are discussed at the various meetings.

The Club aims to further contacts with business through former students active in business pursuits and with business executives, who have addressed the group.

To promote a social attitude among the boys and girls the club held their annual roller skating party at Maple Point.

Miss Wagner, Miss Boyer, Mr. Bradley, and Mr. Minier aid in sponsoring the club. They attend the meetings and furnish a great deal of necessary advice when difficulties arise.

The officers were: President, Marie Maitlen; Secretary, Dallas Rutherford; Treasurer, Ralph Price.

The Girls' Glee Club was organized at the beginning of the school year under the direction of Miss Camilla White. The purpose of the organization is to foster a more advanced music study. The meetings were held every Wednesday and Friday morning during the third period in Room 322.

Broadcasts were made during the year over station WBAA at Purdue University. The group joined the other choruses in giving the Christmas Cantata which was broadcast and later presented in the High School Gym to the entire student body, faculty, and public.

Also included in the club activities during the second semester was the choral Festival at Frankfort in which Jeff's club was invited to participate. The glee club also entertained at the graduation exercises this year.

Several enjoyable parties were held during the year at the school. Betty Amos and Marianne Furr served as accompanists for the year. The officers were: First semester: President, Jeraldine Hargis; Librarian, Margaret Beck; Secretary and Treasurer, Nina Martin. Second semester: President, Margaret Beck; Librarian, Sarah May Snyder; Secretary and Treasurer, Mary Prien.

MIXED CHORUS . . .

"Music is the universal language of mankind."

Engaging in many more activities than ever before, the mixed chorus finished one of the best years it has yet seen—1937-38. Under the direction of Miss Camilla White and the able leadership of the officers, the club made its mark.

The club met on Monday and Wednesday afternoons of each week in Room 322, the sixth hour. The business meetings were conducted on Wednesday. Dues were collected which went to pay for several enjoyable club parties.

The club took part in many varied activities. Prominent among these were the monthly broadcasts over WBAA from the high school, which were given in conjunction with the glee clubs. At Christmas, the mixed chorus took part in the annual Christmas Cantata, "The Song of Good Tidings." This was broadcast and also presented as a convocation feature before the entire student body. Various other events were also participated in by the club during the year.

As a feature of Commencement the mixed chorus, again with the glee clubs, presented several numbers from the works of Gounod, Bellini, and Tschaikowsky. All in all it was a most successful year.

The officers were: President, Joe Laughlin; Secretary-Treasurer, Marian Randolph; Librarian, Chester Riegle.

RED AND BLACK REVIEW OF 1937

THE STUDENTS AND FACULTY

of Jefferson High School Present

THE RED AND BLACK REVUE

Forward

For a second time Jefferson High School brings to you a stage show in which every student and teacher has had some part to play in its production.

Last year between the football and basketball seasons we initiated the idea of an all school performance. It was presented in the form of a Red and Black Revue.

Now we come with the show of 1937 in which we offer to you another way of becoming better acquainted with your high school.

B A N D . . .

Ten years ago the Jeff band consisted of ten or twelve pieces; since that time, it has grown to be a band of seventy-five pieces.

Under the skillful eye of Mr. McAdams, this musical organization has turned out many accomplished musicians. Last year Jeff entered thirty-five students in the State Contest. From this number eighteen went to the National Contest.

This year the State Contest, in which three thousand students will participate, is to be held here in Lafayette.

Not only has the Jeff band achieved great recognition in concert competition, but it is widely known as a marching band. The organization has held the best marching band award for the past two years.

Last summer, the students in the band had the privilege of taking a trip to Logansport to play for the Elk's Convention.

The Jeff band was the first high school band to ever attempt the use of lights on their hats and instruments for night marching. However, since that time, many bands have initiated the use of them.

Last year, Mr. McAdams composed a piece of music entitled "Jefferson on Parade." This year he finished a piece called "WoaOH," arranged so that Jeff's yells can be used with it.

Playing in a band teaches one how to cooperate with his associates. This is, in reality, a preparatory training for after life.

Band sergeants: Bruce Johnson, Dewight Mickler, and Dallas Dawson. Drum majors: Vern Hilt and David Wolfe.

BAND CONTEST . . .

Jefferson High School and the city of Lafayette is proud of its fine participation in the District Contest held at Brazil this year. We wish to thank all the students and parents who helped in making this year's accomplishments possible. Lafayette is also honored in being the host of the Southern-Central State Band and Orchestra Contest to be held the 5th, 6th, and 7th of May.

The District Band and Orchestra Contest was held at Brazil, April 8 and 9, and out of Jeff's twenty-seven entrants, we took twenty-one first divisions. These include solos and ensembles only, due to the exemption of Class A bands at district contest.

Solos: Clarinets, B. Carr, D. Wolfe; Bass Clarinet, W. Lindstrom; Cornet, W. McCloud; Tenor Saxaphone, D. Pyke; Flute, M. Meeker; Piccolo, M. Meeker; Drum, R. Mathews; Baritone, R. Kepler; Trombones, N. Downing, R. Niewerth; Pianos, L. Cassman, B. Amos; and Baton Twirling, B. Carr.

Ensembles: Cornet Trio, W. McCloud, C. Borton, E. Pawlak; Clarinet Trio, M. Rose, C. Reynolds, B. Johnson; Regular Clarinet Quartette, B. Carr, R. Mack, J. Purdue, W. Lindstrom; Clarinet Quartette, M. Rose, C. Reynolds, B. Johnson, L. Gushwa; Trombone Quartette, N. Downing, R. Niewerth, R. Tullis, J. Brand; Brass Quartette, W. Tschopp, H. Dicks, E. Kantz, R. Booth; Brass Sextette, C. Borton, W. Tschopp, R. Kepler, R. Tullis, G. Best, L. Menges.

All of these contestants will compete in the State Band and Orchestra Contest to be held at Lafayette, May 5, 6, and 7.

The participants in the State Contest who win first division will go to the National Band Contest to be held in Elkhart, May 19, 20, and 21.

Mr. B. A. McAdams, director of the Jeff band, has been making remarkable progress with the band. We want to congratulate the Concert Band and the Marching Band and hope that they really bring back the trophies from State and National Contests.

SENIOR DANCE . . .

Three hundred couples of Jeff students, friends, and alumni danced from nine until one o'clock to the swing rhythms of Jimmy Cathcart and his celebrated Indiana University Campus Orchestra at annual Senior Dance on May 20th. The music was arranged especially by members of the orchestra and was danced to in the current popular manner by the several hundred high school swingsters.

An enormous umbrella, covered with paper of varied colors which extended over the gym dance floor, was the outstanding decorative ornament and this, together with the clever lighting effects and many colored balloons strung from each corner of the umbrella to the opposite ends of the gym, converted the dance floor into a veritable fairyland of color and brilliancy. The indirect lighting greatly enhanced the setting created by the giant umbrella.

The cleverly designed programs in the class colors, green and silver, swung gaily in time to the music from the wrists of the sweethearts of the dance. The dance floor was a mass of pastel shades of organdy, dotted swiss, and chiffon. The style most prevalent in the girls' gowns was the latest fad of very formal bodice and wide bouffant skirts.

The climax of the evening, the Grand March, was led by Marion Randolph, president of the Senior Class, her escort, Woodrow Randolph, chairman of the dance committee and his charming partner.

This dance was made possible by the various committees under the guidance of Woody Randolph, assisted by Irma Slayback, Mr. Wills, Mr. Taylor, and Mr. Miller.

YELL LEADERS . . .

DEWIGHT MICKLER

"Micky" has been yell leader around dear old Jeff for about four years and has led cheering sections that have spurred Jeff athletic teams on to victory, some on to championships. Mickler has worked with "Dutch" Surface, "Kokomo" Marshall, "Pinky" Pinkerton and this year with a newcomer, Keith Lahr. It will be hard to replace Dewight Mickler in the cheer leading department and Jeff students hate to see him go.

KEITH LAHR

Keith is a freshman, entering school from Oakland, where he was yell leader in his seventh year. Lahr took part in sports during his final year at Oakland or would have continued being cheer leader. Jeff rooters took a liking to Keith when he first tried out and has been an assistant to Mickler ever since.

BRONCS END SEASON IN GRAND STYLE

Abie Masters could not ask for much better an ending to his 1937 grid season than that which the Bronchos performed in Ross-Ade Stadium on Armistice afternoon. The final score was Jeff, or rather Dose, 20 and West Side, or rather Sexson, 7.

Approximately 5,000 fans went wild when "Horsey" Riley, W. L. back, fumbled on his own 22, and Dick Vandermay recovered for the Jeffmen. Earl Dose had little trouble in romping over his left tackle for a touchdown. Earl followed this with a placement. No scoring was done from then on until near the completion of the first half when Gordie DeVault leaped in the air and snagged a W. L. aerial on the Mooremen's 35 yard line. From here DeVault raced to the 3 yard stripe where Lancaster passed to Dose over the goal for their second touchdown. Dose's place kick was n.g.

During the second half, on the Scarlet's 4, the Bronchos had a first down, but were penalized. From here, Percy Allen plunged to the four yard stripe, Dose continuing on from there around left end for a touchdown. Earl booted the extra point.

Doxie Moore's gridders then took to the air, Keim catching two sensational passes from Riley, advancing to the 17 yard line. Rawles plunged nine yards and Riley netted a first down on the Bronchos' six. Three West Side plays netted but five yards. Substitute Ham was inserted at this point and when he talked in the huddle, they were penalized 15 yards. Rawles, on a fourth down, passed to Woodruff who was downed on the 3 yard line. The official gave W. L. a first down there because of a Broncho interfering. Riley plunged three yards, missing a touchdown by inches but Sexson hammered his way over. He also plunged the extra point on a fake kick.

SUMMARY . . .

Jeff Downs Frankfort . . .

Abie Masters' gridmen opened the season at Scott Field in Frankfort on the night of September 10 before 1,000 fans. The gridiron was rainsoaked but this meant little to the Bronchos. Immediately after the opening of the fourth and final quarter, Rush and Dunkin opened up a hole through tackle and "Firecracker" Bobby Burke raced 48 yards from midfield, paving the way for Walt Ford's quarterback sneak. Earl Dose's placement hit the posts. Eight minutes later, Jim Rush, Tom Dunkin and Carl Atha broke through the Nighthawks' defense and smeared Bob Agnew behind his own goal posts for two points.

Frankfort has never beaten Jeff in football, this victory marking the eleventh straight win for the Mastermen.

Jeff Romps the Berries . . .

On September 17 at Upper Stuart Field, 3,200 shouting fans watched the Bronchos squash the Berries from Logansport, 20-0. The Stable boys started tramping early in the third period when Tom Dunkin and Jim Rush opened up a wide hole in the left side of the Logan line and Gordie DeVault went plunging through for a touchdown. Earl Dose's place kick was good. The Jeffmen chalked up two more touchdowns in the fourth stanza. Starting from the Berries' 29 yard stripe, six smashes were concluded by Dose going through left guard from the 3 yard line. His placement was perfect. After Percy Allen intercepted a Logan aerial and drove to the 29 yard mark, "Cowboy" Dose again rammed over left tackle for six points. His place kick was wide.

It was in 1933 that Logansport last crossed the Jeff goal line.

Ohioans Too Much for Broncs . . .

The Middletown Middies handed Abie's grid boys their first set back of the season at Middletown on September 24, 20-6. In the first six minutes of play, Gose fumbled for the Ohioans and "Dutch" Clark recovered for the Bronchos. With the ball resting on the Middies' 38 yard stripe, Dose made five yards at running and then tossed a 14 yard pass to Walt Ford. Making no gain on two plunges, Dose passed to Burke who caught the ball over the goal line. In the second quarter, the Middletown gridders drove to the Jeff 7 and from there, Watts, a speedy reserve, rounded end for a touchdown. Following this, Watts again took Dose's end over end kickoff and raced down the sidelines for another t. d. McGraw kicked the extra point for the Middies. The big Ohioans drove deep into the Jeff territory several times and then finally Watts circled end for seven yards and their third six pointer. The kick was good, thus ending Jeff's winning streak of 12 straight.

Mastermen Win Over Tech . . .

In the first three minutes of play, the Green Wave boys from the Capital City played like sandlotters who had never learned about the rules of football. After downing Dose's kickoff on their own nine yard line, Weaver fumbled on the next play and "Weinie" Cors recovered. Lancaster carried the ball over the goal line through left tackle. The placement was blocked. About thirty seconds later, Dose's kickoff bounced over the goal stripes and "Specklepuss" Atha fell upon the pigskin for the second six points. Dose passed to Rush for the extra point. No scoring was done from then on until in the final minutes of the tilt when "Cowboy" received a punt and broke wide around right end, racing 55 yards for a touchdown. The placement was good. Following this, Burke and Atkins both caught an aerial but Bobby fought the ball away from the latter and galloped 81 yards for the fourth and final marker; the try for the extra point failed.

C'ville Rally Holds Jeff to a Tie . . .

An over confident Jeff eleven was lucky to escape defeat on the night of October the eighth, when the Athenians scored on the Bronchos for the first time in the past four years. 4,000 enthusiastic fans yelled to the tops of their throats at Upper Stuart Field in an effort to help pull the game out of the fire but to no avail.

Jeff's only scoring was done in the second period when Jim Allen smashed through center for 20 yards and Floyd Lancaster skirted right end for 13 and a touchdown. This was followed with a placement. From this time on until Bill Stephan, plunging Jeff back, was hurt, the Bronchos loafed.

A bad pass from center in the third quarter was recovered by the Coach Cummings' lads and later turned into six points. In the final period of the fracas, Hedges circled end and lateraled to Thompson who was downed on the Jeff 20. Thompson then plunged twice to the 5 yard stripe and then scored on the next play. Hedges, placement was good but sloppy.

Shortridge Spills Stable Boys . . .

Although the Jeffmen outplayed the Blue Wave gridmen in the second half, a touchdown in the final minutes of the game was enough to hand Jeff their second defeat of the season on October 15, in Butler Bowl at Indianapolis. In the first half, the feature seemed not to be running, passing and punting—but fumbling. Each team fumbled frequently at regular intervals during the first half; but it was the final quarter which spelled victory for Bob Nipper's Shortridge team. After DeVault was tossed for an eight yard loss near his goal line, Crockett intercepted a Jeff pass on his own 13. On the second play, Walt Lingeman, halfback, tore through right tackle for an 87 yard touchdown. The placement was good. The Jeffmen then took to the air but to no avail.

Jeff Nears Title by Beating Trojans . . .

Putting up a stonewall defense which the Newcastle Trojans could not break, the Bronchos came within one victory of winning for the second time the North Central conference football championship. Although the field was muddy, 2,500 fans gathered on Upper Stuart Field to cheer the Mastermen on to victory.

It all started when Jack Sunkes recovered a fumble on the Newcastle 33 yard line. Dose on the next play cut through left tackle to the nine yard stripe dispite the sound of the lineman's whistle. A penalty was called on the Trojans for being off side but the Bronchos refused it, taking the gain. Floyd Lancaster drove to the 3 foot marker on the next play with Ford's quarterback sneak climaxing the drive. Dose's placement was good.

A speedy colored lad from Newcastle ruined the Trojan's chances of scoring when for no reason at all he stopped in the middle of the field while en route for a sure touchdown, where "Cowboy" Dose tackled him.

This game marked the 18th straight N.C.C. tilt without a defeat for the Broncs, with one tie.

Jeff Takes N.C.C. Title . . .

Another North Central conference title was copped by the Bronchos on October 29th as the Stable boys swept through the Kokomo team for a 20-0 victory. Earl Dose romped through for two touchdowns and kicked a point afterwards.

This marked the second straight consecutive year the Mastermen had won the N.C.C. championship, defeating Kokomo last year also to take the title.

BASKETBALL . . .

Seated—V. Cors, J. Rush, S. Gershuny, T. Dunkin, B. Ewing.
Standing—J. Goomen, B. Burke, F. Dose, J. Pechin.

Jeff-Williamsport . . .

The Stable boys were pushed to the limited in their first game of the season, but a final sput "saved the day," winning 23-19, in the Jeff gym before 1,200 fans. Jim Rush and Bobby Burke led the team on offense and defense, respectively.

Jeff-Kokomo . . .

Abie's Bronchos ran into plenty trouble on the night of November 24 when they visited the Wildcap camp and came home with prints of claws in their backs, losing to Kokomo 32-29. The Kats used their height to great advantage and their constant connection with the hoop was took much for the Mastermen. Sammy Gershuny and "Firecracker" Burke shared high point honors with seven markers each.

Jeff-Connersville . . .

2,000 yelling fans watched the Bronchos click perfectly at Connersville November 26 as they swept the Spartans off their feet with a 31-24 victory. Dose and Pechin led the offense while Burke and Rush stood out on defense.

Jeff-Crawfordsville . . .

Floyd Lancaster stepped across the center line with about a minute and a half left and cut loose with a long arching shot that swished through the nets and meant victory for the hard fighting Jeffmen. This was followed by Bobby Burke's free throw, accounting for the 28-25 score. Pechin won high point honors with seven tallies.

Jeff-Richmond . . .

The Brenchos led all the way in their game against the Richmond Red Devils in the Jeff gym December 3 and came out on the long end of a 29-25 count. Bobby Burke and Jim Rush showed up best for the Horsemen.

Jeff-Technical . . .

Setting a fast pace never before witnessed by Lafayette fans, Tech's Green Wavers fell before a near-perfect Jeff five, 43-32. Leading 27-14 at the half, the Horsemen really put on a show, with Dose and Pechin gathering sixteen and ten points, respectively for high point laurels. Floyd Lancaster and Jim Rush led the locals on defense.

Jeff-Marion . . .

Jimmy Pechin chalked up 15 points for himself at Marion January 28 and with the help of Bobby Burke's ten markers and teammates, beat the Marion five 36-29.

Jeff-Frankfort . . .

The Bronchos, in an effort to increase their imaginary victory margin, threw their game away at Frankfort in Howard Hall before 2,700 fans as the Hot Dogs put up a late rally and won 26-25. The Stable boys led most of the way but the Horsemen just couldn't hold onto their lead.

Jeff-Logansport . . .

For the first time, a Lafayette team beat the Logansport Berries in the Berry Bowl. The score was 39-26. Bobby Burke gathered eleven points while "Cowboy" Dose chalked up ten.

Jeff-Delphi . . .

With but few seconds left, Dick Downs, slim Delphi forward, grabbed the ball and flipped in a basket which meant victory for the Oracles, 20 to 18. Sammy Gershuny handled the bankboard work in excellent fashion for the Jeffmen while Burke and Lancaster shared offensively.

Jeff-Crawfordsville . . .

Trailing 7-3 at the end of the first quarter, Jeff's Bronches went to work and handed Crawfordsville a 25-18 set back on the loser's court. Bobby Burke and Johnny Goonen were the standouts for the Jeff five.

Jeff-Logansport . . .

Abie Masters' Stable boys with a loose defense and a poor offense were pushed hard before downing the Logansport Berries in the Jeff gym 22-21. There was no star for either team as both aggregations were far off form.

Jeff-Anderson . . .

Stacking up a strong defense together with a lightning-like offense, the Mastermen defeated Archie Chadd's 1937 State Champs, Anderson, 21-16. Although the Indians led 12-11 at the half, the Lafayette boys, with the sparking of Jim Rush, came from behind and won.

Jeff-Kokomo . . .

For the second time during the year, the Kokomo Kats beat the Jeff Bronchos, this time in the Jeff gym before 5,000 fans, 30-29. The gun halted a Broncho rally that seemed unstoppable. Coach McCullough's lads led 20-11 at the intermission but with Burke hitting the hoop constantly and Goonen and Gershuny playing a swell defensive game, the Bronchos pulled within one point of the Kats, but could gain no further ground.

Jeff-Newcastle . . .

A poor Newcastle team fell before the charging Bronchos, 30-23, as Abie Masters kept substituting throughout the entire tilt. The Broncho reserves played most of the game although it was the regulars who proved to be the most effective. Dose, Rush, and Lancaster all played good games.

Jeff-West Side . . .

In one of the bitterest games of the year, the Jeffmen beat the boys from across the river, West Side, 25-21. 3,000 enthusiastic fans watched Dose lead his teammates to victory with Rush, Burke and Gershuny holding down the largest part of the defensive burden in excellent style.

Jeff-Frankfort . . .

Frankfort's Fighting Five whipped Jeff for the second time of the year in the Jeff gym, February 1, 28-23. The Bronchos' lousy shooting proved to be the main cause of defeat but the Stable boys also failed to put up their usual type of defense. Lancaster, Rush and Dose all gathered six points each for the losers.

Jeff-Lebanon . . .

Lebanon's Tigers gave the Lafayette lads an exhibition of fast break basketball at Lebanon January 12, winning 39-32. Sammy Gershuny led the Jeff attack with twelve points while Jim Rush played his usual good defensive game.

Jeff-Muncie . . .

The Bronchos pushed the Muncie Bearcats into an overtime battle before falling before the tall Muncie five, 35-34. Immediately after the overtime, Gershuny tipped one in for the Stable boys but Jim Carnes, Bearcat dead-eye-dick, hit a free throw and a basket to win for the Jolleymen.

Jeff-Lebanon . . .

Lebanon made it two wins for the season over Jeff February 25th when they set the Bronchos back on their heels 42-34. The Stable boys seemed to be unable to stop the Tigers, with Smith, hard-driving Lebanon forward chalking up 19 points. Gershuny and Dunkin led the offense with Goonen and Burke sharing the defensive honors.

Sectional and Regional Summary

In their opening sectional game, the Bronchos walked away with Monitor's big Commodores, 40-19. Dose cashed in with 14 points; his teammates lead 21-7 at the half.

Sammy Gershuny's six-feet, six-inches of height proved too much for Battle Ground's fighting five as he gathered 24 points to lead the Stable boys to a 72-16 win. Five of Joy Anderson's Grounders left the game via the personal route, who, in a gallant effort, had tried to stop the towering Sammy.

In a game that provided thrills, chills, and spills, the Bronchos were forced into an overtime battle before finally winning out over Doxie Moore's West Side Red Devils, 32-30. Jim Rush provided the winning basket, although Bob Westra and Floyd Lancaster played well. The score at the half was 12-12.

Abie Masters' Stable boys won the Sectional title by defeating West Point's unbeaten Cadet five in the final game, 45-17. Leading 19-10 at the intermission, Dose and Goonen came through with 13 and 11 markers respectively. Johnny Goonen also played a swell defensive tilt.

The Bronchos proved that the third time is charm in the Regional by beating Lebanon's Tigers 36-25. The Bronchos, after leading 19-9 at the half, loosened up in the second half but with the aid of rangy Sammy Gershuny, were able to hold their lead and advance into the finals that night. Dose and Burke gathered nine points each.

Frankfort's mighty Hog Dog five ended the hardwood season for the Mastermen by dumping them for the third time in a year, by a 30-26 score before 5,000 fans. The Bronchos played heads-up ball the first half and were on top at the intermission, 13-11. Sammy Gershuny put the Bronchos into a 17-11 lead with less than two minutes gone in the third period but this lead soon dwindled when Evie Case's boys started hitting. Bobby Burke and Gershuny shared high point honors for the losers with eight markers each.

LAFAYETTE SERVES THE WORLD . . .

This slogan, adopted by The Chamber of Commerce, Lafayette, Indiana, typifies the ideal of this community, an ideal of making this world a better place in which to live, an ideal of service to all.

Beauty is always a real service. Lafayette is beautiful. It nestles in the valley of the Wabash, famed in story and song. It is surrounded by some of the most scenic drives in Indiana. Perhaps, it does not have the grandeur of mountains, nor the expanse of the sea, but it does have all the loveliness of wooded hills, tinkling streams, ever-changing panoramas.

History writes with moving fingers of this Wabash country. It weaves a spell that enchants and lingers. Here came an intrepid La Salle; here came the earnest pioneer. His hopes and aspirations translated into realities for the next generation; here come the modern trail-blazers, using test tubes and microscope, instead of the axe and the rifle. Here David E. Ross created and invented, yet with level eyes saw the ways of sound finance. Here Amelia Earhart left with wings outstretched to a star!

Lafayette is in the heart of the continent. It is deep in the granary of the Nation. But, it is more than that, it is in the economic and political center of the United States. It is in the heart of a vast workshop, also. Come with me for a moment to U. S. Road No. 52. Here is a train of giant trucks, there is an airplane overhead. Everywhere in the whole community is work done by automotive power instead of grinding down humanity.

About 35,000 people reside in this community. Round about are the fertile lands of Tippecanoe County. On them are produced varied and abundant crops. Much real wealth flows into this part of the country. As far as per capita wealth is concerned, Lafayette is one of the wealthiest cities in the United States.

The city owns the water works system. It has a motorized fire department and offers adequate police protection. There are miles of paved streets. The city park is most beautiful, attracting visitors for miles around. It is a city, too, of attractive, well-built homes.

It has an excellent, modern public school system, crowned with Purdue University, a state university at the top. "The learning of the few is despotism—the learning of the many is liberty—and intelligent and principled liberty is fame, wisdom, and power." These the public school system offers to any and all who wish to learn.

There are many factors which make Lafayette an ideal manufacturing and distributing center. It is 120 miles southeast of Chicago and 60 miles northwest of Indianapolis, just in the strategical position to profit by trade from these larger metropolitan centers. Within a few miles are two hydro-electric plants, producing an abundance of cheap power. Not far south are rich, plentiful coal fields. There are five trunk railroads with unexcelled freight and passenger service. There is also plenty of labor available. To date the city has been free from any serious labor strife.

So, with raw materials near at hand, excellent transportation facilities, cheap and abundant power and fuel, near the center of population for the country as a whole, and with contented labor available, Lafayette is most attractive for the manufacturer. It is rather interesting that the Aluminum Company of America studied the situation very carefully and then decided to locate a very large new factory here.

Lafayette's industries include railroad shops, one of the greatest steering gear factories in the world, a boxboard factory, flour mills, a soap factory, foundries, wire works, electrical supply works, and many others.

It is, also, a community of churches. There are many leading benevolent and secret order and lodges with chapters here. Banking facilities are adequate. Medical attention, clinics, hospitals are readily available.

In its stores and shops, Lafayette offers quality merchandise. It has many of the advantages and none of the disadvantages of the larger cities.

Of course, it is interested in the sports of the time. All Hoosiers are, for that matter. But with all this devotion to sports, the community recognizes the deeper problems of the time and studies them earnestly, too.

Truly, there is room for the abundant life in this beautiful community, nestling on the banks of the Wabash. There is no monotony in our panorama. It is constantly changing, constantly broadening. "The best is yet to be."

Lafayette offers much to those seeking residence here. Among these advantages are unequalled educational privileges, good business facilities, excellent industrial sites, amid plenty of religious and cultural opportunities.

Here is unrivalled opportunity for the Masterful grasp of material things;

Strength combined with acuteness and wings!

Wilma Fletemeyer.

FAIR ROSAMOND

At close of day Fair Rosamond
Within her bow'r reclined
That labyrinth whose passages
So cunningly were twined.

She plucked a lute and softly sang
Of knights and ladies fair,
Of royal Henry's jealous love,
Of the bow'r he'd built her there.

She mused on her strange and lonely fate,
Condemned to dwell apart;
Her secret love for England's King
Weighed upon her heart.

The curtain stirred; she dropped her lute
And turned to see who came.
Queen Eleanor before her stood,
And sternly asked her name.

In faltering tones the maiden told
Then did the Queen reply,
"For the guilty love thou bear'st the King
This hour thou'rt doomed to die!

"So choose ye now betwixt the twain,
The dagger or the bowl;
For I vow to thee thou shalt not live,
No more shalt vex my soul!

"I've watched thee now for many a day,
As thou thy wiles dost play
To win my royal husband's heart
When he seeks thee day by day!

"Know'st thou not that he is wed?
His bride and queen am I?
His life and love to me are pledged!
Thou canst not choose but die!"

The hapless maid in terror saw
The Queen before her stand;
The dreadful cup and poniard sharp
Glittered in her hand.

Fair Rosamond in vain did plead,
In vain for mercy beg;
To her lips was forced the fateful bowl;
She drained it to the dregs.

Soft she sank upon her couch,
In all her youth and pride;
The vengeful Queen of England smiled
As Rosamond died.

Betty Byers, 39.

WHAT HAVE WE HERE

No, it isn't Astaire and Rogers, a great resemblance, though . . . Jeff has had the pleasure of seeing the "Red and Black Birds" born and watch them grow this year . . . Aha! This may be another great dance team—but, no! It's just a pair of love birds! . . . A scene from a pep session in the year's great "school-spirit campaign" . . . Not a bunch of circus people, but Jeff backers selling candy at the P.T.A. Carnival . . . "There's something about a uniform"—Max Gilstrap, who gave us a keen convo . . . An athletic tussle—the Jeff-Shortridge game . . . Behold! The Queen! Winner of the coveted title "Miss Vogue"—Corrine Reifers . . . Robert Taylor (of the Jeff faculty!!), a new addition . . . Just "school chums"—("Joes"?) . . . "He's the drummer-man"—Yeh!

CALENDAR . . .

Sept. 22—School has really begun. . . . The very first convocation was today.

Oct. 4—Bumps and spills and lots of thrills! At least for those who attended the Senior Hi-Y skating party.

Oct. 6—Fire prevention convo. The firemen were merciful this year; they didn't merely dust off their old jokes — they polished 'em.

Oct. 20—First dance of the year, the Booster dance, gave the terpsichorean season a marvelous send-off.

Oct. 21—The weary dancers had a chance to sleep it all off during the next few days, but the poor teachers had to go to their convention.

Oct. 27—Convo.

Nov. 3—Another convo.

Nov. 9—And still another. Colonial Williamsburg this time. Fascinatin', suh an' ma'm, fascinatin'!

Nov. 10—The big show at last! The colossal, stupendous, description-defying Red and Black Revue, '37 edition.

Nov. 15—The football banquet gave hero worshipers a chance to gaze upon our mighty athletes en masse.

Nov. 17—Carlton Sturdy (sounds like heap big strong man, ugh!) appeared at convocation.

Nov. 18—And on his heels came the Southland Jubilee Singers, really good in that poignant Southern fashion.

Nov. 25—Begins another little holiday, Thanksgiving this time. And now it's one unbroken stretch of work, relieved only slightly by weekends, until Christmas.

Dec. 1—Helen Hiett, a very clever modern miss, told of her experiences in dictator-infested Europe.

Dec. 21—Christmas cantata convo. Quite a few warblers around school, we learned.

Dec. 22—Merry Christmas! Very merry, for school's out till 1938!

Jan. 3, 1938—Well, it sounded nice, but '38 has a habit of stepping on '37's tail too eagerly. So here we are at the old grind again.

Jan. 17—O, woeful day! The end of the term brings those fateful report cards.

Jan. 18, 19—What a lot of tragedy is packed into one little word — finals.

Jan. 24—With a new crop of preps to enliven the routine, we start it all over again. Term after term — my, my, what an aimless existence!

Feb. 12—Jeff came in second in the debate tourney. Oh well, personally I think red is as pretty as blue — at least in ribbons — or anyway in prize ribbons.

Feb. 16—Hanya Holm and her troupe went through the contortions of a modern dance demonstration. Extremely interesting, my children, and quite enlightening, and — hey, wake up!

Feb. 24—Fortune tellers, candy, balloons, an' everything! Know where? Of course, clever infants, at the P. T. A. Carnival.

Mar. 2—What a comfortable floor the skating rink has! Lots of people (including me) made this discovery at the skating party sponsored by the Senior Hi-Y.

Mar. 3, 4, 5—Sectionals—We went through with flying colors. But on —

Mar. 12—Well, even an eagle can't soar forever, let alone the proverbial aeronautical colors. All of which translated means — we kinda sorta were eliminated in the regionals. Oh, well, next year. . . . . .

Mar. 9—Murdock the Magician exhibited his mysterious powers.— Doggone it! I still can't figure out where he hid those doves.

Mar. 19—Almost more of a social affair than a sporting event. But for fans of both types of entertainment there was plenty of fun popping at the semi-finals.

May 20—Words are not sufficient to describe the thrills and charms of that superb affair, the senior dance. Too, too divine, magnificent, wonderful, gorgeous — Oh, gosh! Supply your own adjectives.

SPECIAL HONOR ROLL . . .

We nominate for our special honor roll:

For being State's best drum major—Verne Hilt.

For winning highest honors in State Contest—the Band.

For three years work on Varsity Debating Team—Eldon Ellis, Jordan McCarty, and John Purdue.

A London pedestrian was meandering vaguely across the street, and stopping traffic. A solicitous driver inquired politely: "I say, sir, may I ask what are your plans?"

Jordan: "You know you're not a bad looking girl."
Betty Jane M.: "Oh, you'd say so even if you didn't think so."
Jordan: "We're even then. You'd think so even if I didn't say so."

Maiden's Prayer

Breathes there a man
Around this school
Sufficiently
Restrained and cool,
Enough to limit
His demands
And say "Good night,"
Just holding hands,
Who has the decency
To wait
Until at least
A second date
To reach a warm,
Romantic state
And give a girl
Some preparation
Before expecting
Osculation
At least an hour
In duration?
If such there be
Go mark him well,
I'll date the guy
And make him tell
Me what the heck
He had for dinner,
That makes him—so sick.

A young attorney was pleading his first case. He was retained by a farmer to prosecute a railroad company for killing 24 hogs, and wanted to impress the jury with the magnitude of the injury.

"Twenty-four hogs, gentlemen, twenty-four hogs. Twenty-four—twice the number in the jury box!"
